

Jayhawk Media Workshop

Commuter Release Form 2018

This form explains the policies and procedures for students hoping to attend the Jayhawk Media Workshop as commuter students. These details are necessary to ensure the safety of all students and because the majority of JMW's enrollment is residential students.

We ask you to understand that the policies and procedures below are not able to be changed based on individual circumstances. For instance, commuting students need to comply with the policies below even if they conflict with sports practices, rehearsals, etc. We understand these policies will not accommodate every particular student need. However, our commitment to student safety requires that we insist on the steps outlined below.

Students cannot elect to be commuters for a portion of the camp and residents for another portion. Students must be either commuters or residents.

Who? Any student enrolled in JMW may enroll with the commuter plan in any of our available courses.

What? A chance to attend JMW for a reduced rate and commute to the workshop each day. Students will attend all instructional times and have the same journalism experience as fellow campers.

What will commuters miss? JMW hosts social activities in the evenings. While commuters will attend the Sunday night picnic, they will not attend the Monday, Tuesday or Wednesday evening activities.

What about meals? Commuting students will not be enrolled on the meal plan. For that reason, they should bring payment for lunch on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday.

How? Commuting students must check in and out with the counselor tasked with commuter supervision at Stauffer-Flint Hall. JMW will keep a book used to check in and check out.

How much? The cost for commuting students is $425 for five days instruction, access to JMW computer labs and equipment, Sunday night's picnic dinner, daily camp activities, plus a camp t-shirt and water bottle.

When? Please see the workshop handbook for drop-off and pick-up times each day. We request that commuting students arrive on time or early for these times. After pick-up time each evening, we ask that commuting students not return to JMW's activities or the residence hall for safety and to ensure that we keep accurate attendance of resident campers.

Release

I hereby authorize the University of Kansas and the Jayhawk Media Workshop (JMW) to allow my child to participate in the 2016 JMW camp as a commuting student and agree to abide by the policies and procedures listed above. I understand that I must provide transportation to and from JMW on each day of the camp. I also understand that timely drop-off and pick-up are vital to student safety and the activities of JMW. I acknowledge that if the policies listed above are not followed, my child will be subject to dismissal from the 2016 JMW camp without refund. I hereby release the University of Kansas, JMW, and their employees from liability for, and waive on behalf of myself, my child, and my heirs and successors, any or all loss, damage, injuries, claims, demands, actions or causes of actions, and any other liability of any kind, known or unknown, of or to me or any other person, directly or indirectly arising out of or in connection with my child's participation in, attendance at, or travel to and from the 2018 JMW camp.
